II. Answer any ONE of the following questions in not more than two pages.
(1×6=6)

3. Write an essay on the topic " Use and Abuse of the Internet".
4. Write a paraphrase for the following text.

There is not much need of proving to most school boys that holidays are necessary. They are quite convinced that they are- and most desirable, too. They welcome a holiday from school with hilarious joy, and plague the head master on the least excuse to let them off their lessons. It would be more in place to try to convince them of the necessity of work and study. Yet it may be desirable to show that regular intervals of rest, recreation, or change of occupation are really necessary. Holidays at proper intervals are especially necessary for young people, and for those engaged in hard mental work, for continuous work, without a break, will injure the health, and may cause a nervous breakdown.

P.T.O.

A short holiday, rightly used, will send us back to air work with renewed zest and vigour. But holidays may be abused. If the holiday is spent in stupid idleness, or in an exhausting round of exciting amusements, or shut up in close stuffy rooms, the person will come back to his work tired, listless and uninterested.
